Programme

The SISEC Winter School is aimed at PhD students at the beginning of their doctoral studies, it invites sociologists of all sub-sectors, and young social scientists from different disciplines as economy, political science, demography with an interest in socio-economic field.

The Winter School, edition 2020-21, will focus on: 1) the formulation of research questions; 2) the appropriate research design.

The Faculty is composed by: Delia Baldassarri (New York University – Field experiments), Diego Coletto (Università di Milano Bicocca – Ethnography), Anton Hemerijck (European University Institute – Comparative analysis and case studies), Paola Mattei (Università di Milano – Process tracing), Daniele Vignoli (Università di Firenze – Quantitative analysis/Family life courses).

Activities will be organized in the form of six webinars, and will be held in English. Students will be required to prepare some readings in advance, and to be active during the discussion. Lessons will take place from the end of January to mid February 2021. The schedule will be available in due course and published on the SISEC website.
